On How to Conduct
Function

For Debutante.

Crush Tea Is a Proper
Medium.Iron Clad Rules Concerning Care in Sending Out the Invitations.Red Must Be in Any Color Except White, Wear No Jewels,
But a Few Flowers—Decolete Limitations.

"I am like the unfortunate young woman who for years consigned in her bosom the terrible fact that she did not think John Gilpin 'funny.' A debutante was overheard saying to a friend, a guest at her coming-out tea. 'She confessed her guilty secret in an unguarded moment to James Payne, the novelist, and was promptly comforted by the assurance that, for his part, he had always found it dull. Now, I don't think afternoon affairs the most hilarious functions in the world, and if you agree with me, do say so.'

Despite the fact that the average debutante prefers a ball to a crush tea as the medium of launching her upon the social seas, the tea is now the more correct function.

The crush tea admits of more or less ceremonious and elaborate arrangements, according to the fancy of the entertainer, but it does not demand the pomp and circumstance of a ball, for which the invitations may number from one hundred to one thousand, and a handsome ball room is essential. Nor is it likely to be so successful as a ball, particularly in the person of the debutante, happens to be constrained and subdued. Still, it's the thing, and here's the etiquette of it.

The hostess who stands just within the room to greet her friends, with her daughter beside her, introduces her to each approaching guest with the simple formula, "Mrs. —, allow me to present to you my daughter, Miss —," or she employs some slight variation of the words which always present the daughter, not the guest.

The debutante, unfortunately, must stand beside her mother all the time, as no sooner have the guests stopped arriving than they begin to go, and she must be at her post to wish them adieu.

Previous to the debut the mother and elder unmarried sisters of the bud make ceremonious calls, or leave their cards, with those of father and brothers, for all acquaintances whom they propose to invite to be present at the debut. Invitations should include the sons of all friends of the hostess, and often an intimate friend, knowing certain young men for whom she can vouch, will ask for invitations for them.

About ten days before the event, engraved invitations are sent out. The best form for these invitations is as follows:

Mrs. Diedrick Knickerbocker,
Miss Knickerbocker.
At Home.

Thursday afternoon, November nineteenth, from four until seven o'clock, 27 Pleasant avenue."

It is a most undesirable and unfortunate thing for a girl to have any enemies made by slights on the occasion of her debut. There is no excuse for leaving any one out of a coming out entertainment, therefore the invitation list should be made out most carefully, and special pains taken not to forget any distant family relatives or connections and old friends. It is a curious fact that no matter how far away people live, and how utterly impossible it is for them to attend your tea, they will feel very much hurt and never forgive you if you leave them out.

Any friends or acquaintances who have failed to fulfill their social obligations may be omitted from the invitation list.

A story is told of a guest of one of the old beaux of society in New York who received his Waterloo at the hands of a debutante of 1891-92. He has for years been a prominent figure at every social function. He can tell a funny story, and at the same time pick out the right fork every time without a blunder. His carefully graduated greetings run from waist bend to nod, and finally his smile of approval is more to a debutante than American Beauties from another fellow.

It remains for the daring debutante to make him out a fatted calf—and then to kill him. As the story goes, her mother had asked him to a couple of dinners, and he had eaten them with much relish, but without later paying his dinner call. As a result, when the coming-out ball was given, the "onliest-only" had no chance to "reply, if you please."

That did not trouble him, however, for he was certain the invitation had been lost in the mails.

The night of the ball came. The receiving line had been slightly broken, but the debutante still kept her place. The room was crowded. The man at the door announced a name. It was the old beau. All looked his way. He entered, delivering on all sides his whole stock of greetings. The girl came to meet him with both hands outstretched.

"Oh, Mr. —," she cried, so that half the room heard, "this is indeed an unexpected pleasure."

The proper sort of clothes for the debutante includes something sweetly charming and girlish—pale rose colored draperies, or heaven's own blue. Lily white, from head to heels, is no longer in the best taste for a debutante's gown; white is reserved for the occasion when the maiden is led to the altar.

When introduced to society she may make herself an object of delicious contemplation in any color but white. She wears no jewels, but a few flowers. One of the many bouquets with which she is overwhelmed is carried in her left hand, while the right hand is left free to present to people as they are introduced. The mother wears a gown of richness and elegance, in marked contrast to the simplicity of the daughter's toilet, and a profusion of jewels.

The young ladies who assist in receiving in pretty, high-necked gowns—no one wears décollete costume—like mother and daughter, are without hats, but wear gloves. They are stationed about the rooms, and their duty is to look after the welfare of the guests and to make themselves generally useful and agreeable, and not to stand around like so many Psyches and Galateas in a museum.

"One genuine society leader with tact and experience," as the late Ward McAllister was fond of saying, "is of more value to a hostess than a battalion of young damsels in gauze and flowers and smiles."

There is much to be said, however, in favor of having a flower garden of girls to assist, provided each is impressed with the fact that the hostess, like a famous admiral, expects each and all to do their duty.

The refreshments resemble those of somewhat more elaborate functions. The table in the dining room is made attractive with flowers and lights, and three or four waiters are in attendance to serve sandwiches, salads, cakes, bon-bons and ices. Bouillon at one end of the table is served from an urn, and tea and chocolate at the other.

If it is not possible to procure the services of waiters, the table is pre-arranged over by three or four of the young ladies, who add to the attractiveness of the supper room, sparkling out as visions in adorable gowns, and press youth and chivalry, represented by the young men, into the service.

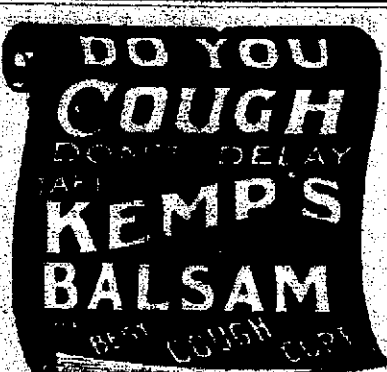

Recitations and musical efforts by professionals at an ordinary 5 o'clock tea, are permissible, although amateurs or professionals may enliven or depress the entertainment. Of course, the music is very heavy and classical, since everyone is so educated now that she does not enjoy harmony she can comprehend.

The only real kind and humane way to entertain people on such occasions is with a pain-hidden hand, to which no one needs make a feint of listening, but whose bright, popular melodies unconsciously inspire rather than depress the assemblage.

The infallible way to promote conversation is to provide music. "How did you make her listen to you?" a friend asked a man who had a wife possessed of the gift of tongue.

"I proposed at a musicale," was the reply.

The chief element of success for a coming out function is a really fresh debutante. The average society girl has had almost three years in society, in a small way, before her mother freshens up her gowns and her charms and pronounces her a bud, with a great flourish of trumpets. The result is that she possesses little interest in the social world, and is quite without the charm of naivete and the freshness and ingenuousness that render her fascinating despite her

CASITORIA. The Kid You Saw Always Laugh. REVIVAL

Services are Being Largely Attended.

A goodly number attended the revival meeting at Market street Presbyterian church, last night, despite the storm. A feature which has impressed all who have attended is the forceful preaching of Rev. R. J. Thomson, and the simplicity of manner in which the services are conducted.

They consist of an abundance of song, a telling of the "Old, Old Story," prayer and an invitation to enter the ranks of those who are living for Christ.

Dr. Thomson is a firm believer in song and prayer, and these are among the appealing characteristics of all the meetings. As the choir of selected voices fill the edifice from floor to gallery with their grandness and sweetness, it is more than sufficient to make the sin-stained heart cry out for forgiveness.

The congregational singing consisted of "Sweet Peace Is Flooding My Soul," "Speak to My Soul," "Magnify His Name," and "Tis Love, Redeeming Love," followed by scripture reading from Luke, chapter 15, the parable of the prodigal son. "I've Not Forgotten Thee," a solo, was sung by Prof. Geo. P. Lull.

The Plea of Dr. Thomson. He chose for his text: "No man cared for my soul," Psalm 142:4, and summarized the discourse with the logical conclusion "that in view of the indifference of the world to our welfare, we must ourselves look out for the salvation of our souls."

Perhaps no person in history filled so many stations as the man who wrote the text. He was at one time a shepherd and then a king. He was a singer then a saint; a poet, the sweet singer of old and then the master-musician. He was at one time the pursued and then pursuer.

The meetings are to continue every evening this week, Saturday excepted, and begin promptly at 7:30 p. m. All are cordially welcome.

TRIAL Of Eckstein For Murder Proves a Farce.

Case Against Bechtols Not Strong.

State's Attorney Has Prom- ise of Eckstein and Both of His Att. Boys

That He Will Testify to All He Knows About Happenings at Girl's Home, Night of Her Murder.

Allentown, Pa., Jan. 13.—The trial of Alois Eckstein in connection with the murder of Mabel Bechtol, began today. Eckstein was said to be Miss Bechtol's suitor. The indictment charges him with being an accessory after the murder. It is expected that Eckstein will be acquitted and that he will be used as a witness against the members of the Bechtol family.

District Attorney Lichtenwalner said today: "I must confess our case against the Bechtols is not as strong as I expected it to be. Furthermore, I must admit that our case against Eckstein was purely circumstantial. Rather than take the chance of losing all we decided to relinquish our fight against him and give him his freedom, on condition that he would testify to what occurred in the home of the Bechtols the Saturday night Mabel came home after she left Weisenberger. We have the promise of Mr. Stiles and Mr. Gromann that their client will take the stand when called upon to do so; and I now have hopes of being able to solve the mystery."

Attorney Lutz made the opening address for the commonwealth in which he explained the indictments upon which the defendant would be tried and outlined the case against Eckstein as the state would prove it. The history of the crime was related but in nothing that the attorney said was there any evidence that Eckstein was looked upon as one of the principals in the tragedy.

George Kocher and George Leiby, neighbors of the Bechtol family, were the first witnesses called. They testified to finding Miss Bechtol's body in the arway under the Bechtol home on Tuesday morning, October 27, and to the appearance of the body.

Their testimony revealed nothing new. Dr. W. W. Eschbach, who made the autopsy described minutely the wounds on the body, condition of the organs, clothing, etc. He said the cause of death was a fracture of the skull resulting in hemorrhages. A short recess was then taken. The district attorney was asked if he had decided to change his previously announced plans regarding Eckstein. He replied: "I cannot rely on Eckstein's attorney. For the present I am fishing for information and that is why I am going on with the case. I admit we have nothing against Eckstein and an acquittal is certain. I cannot say whether I'll ask for it before the close of the day."

SHERIFF IS CALLED UPON.

To Protect Non-union Men Employ- ed by Warren Manufac- turing Concerns.

Warren, O., Jan. 13.—Striking employees at the Harris press works here have attacked the non-union workmen, resulting in a riot in which three persons were seriously injured while a number of others were cut and bruised. The company has applied to Sheriff Williams for protection, declaring that the local authorities are not able to cope with the situation. The company refuses to take back five men, in whose support the strike was called by the Machinists' Union.

It's Now Up to Carl.

Carl Reese really enjoys being a papa. He is shaving close these days and is just a little nervous, but he has shown Roosevelt that he is a full fledged American, and is sore only at the newspapers which failed to mention the new comer until it is almost old enough to hand in the item itself. The reporter is so busy looking after the Fourth ward that this item was overlooked. Carl, we will do better next time.—Indianapolis (Iowa) Herald.

Happy Couple

United in Marriage Last Evening.Miss Effie McComb Is the Charming Bride of Mr.
Ernest Lynch.Marriage Ceremony Was Performed
By the Rev. R. J. Thomson at the Home of the Bride's Parents.

Last evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. McComb, on west Eureka street, occurred the marriage of their charming daughter, Miss Effie McComb, to Mr. Ernest Lynch. The interior of the home was beautifully decorated with flowers, smilax, ferns and plants, green and white predominating. An improvised altar was arranged in the front parlor beneath a canopy of white carnations and sprays of ferns. Tiny green candles bordered the other decorations and added beauty to the scene.

At 8:30 o'clock the marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. R. J. Thomson, pastor of the Market street Presbyterian church.

When the happy couple appeared to take the sacred vows that now unite their lives, the groom was accompanied by his brother, Mr. Rodney Lynch, and the bride by her maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Jones. Miss Povenmire, at the piano, played Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bridegroom wore an exquisite creation of mauve seersucker, over white silk, the demi-trained skirt being a robe pattern with Vandyke points of satin stripes all around the lower edge, which was finished with a tiny ruching. The skirt was shirred several times at the waist where it was held by a wide girde of mauve velvet, a bertha of the satin stripes completed the shirred yoke on the bodice and the full sleeves were of the stripes. A large bouquet of bride's roses and ferns completed the pretty toilette. There is an old saying that each bride must "wear something old and something new, something borrowed and something blue" and it is usually carried out to the letter. This time, the first injunction caused the bride to wear an heirloom of the Hall family, a handkerchief ring and holder which numerous brides have carried in years gone by, the bride's mother being one of them. The maid of honor made a charming picture in a dainty gown of Persian lawn made with a full shirred skirt and lace yoke and bertha. The binding words were uttered by the bride's pastor and after the ceremony congratulations were showered upon the happy young couple. Then all were seated at small tables and an appetizing two course supper was served, one pretty feature being the cutting and sharing of the bride's cake. Miss Lenora Simons secured the piece holding the golden circlet insuring a speedy marriage. Miss Grace Lynch was the fortunate finder of the lucky dime which brings good fortune, and Miss Bessie Rink found the consoling thimble, when the bouquet was tossed in midair. Numerous hands were outstretched, but only one pair secured it, and they belonged to Miss Winnie May. The tossing of the groom's glove gave the single men their chance to better their fortunes. Mr. Ralph Dimond captured the glove.

The from-out-of-town guests enjoying the occasion with the fifty home people, were: Mrs. George Oram, of Warsaw, Ind.; Mr. E. E. Medsker, of Detroit, and Miss Bessie Rink and Miss Helen Vall, of Columbus Grove. At ten-thirty, the young couple were driven to their cozy new home, all ready for them, on east Eureka street.

A WOMAN TO BE PRETTY Must Have Luxuriant and Glossy Hair, No Matter What Color.

The finest contour of a female face, the sweetest smile of a female mouth, loses something if the hair is crowned with scant hair. Scant and falling hair, it is now known, is caused by a parasite that burrows into the scalp to the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality. The little white scales the germ throws up in burrowing are called dandruff. To cure dandruff permanently, then, and to stop falling hair, that germ must be killed. Nowbro's Herpicide, an entirely new result of the chemical laboratory, destroys the dandruff germ, and, of course, stops the falling hair, and prevents baldness. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

HOSTETTER'S

NEW IDEAS

In Use of Wall Paper in Picture Framing.

The newest picture-framing idea is the use of wall papers for mats.

Not only dark green, gray, blue and red cartridge papers are used for mats, but the figured wall papers as well. One of the prettiest landscapes pictures recently shown in an exhibit had for a mat a cream satin wall paper, marked with gauzy spider webs connected by a silken spider thread.

In the upper left-hand corner of the picture was a spider weaving a web; about a huge crimson rose. The effect was exquisite, combining as it did, the cream and gray tones with the red of the rose.

Another wall paper idea was a water color sketch of a child, which was framed with a mat made of violet wall paper. The frame itself was of violet passepartout, which made it a fitting object to hang on the boudoir walls of the elderly woman for whom it was intended.

A dainty little country landscape had for its setting a mat made of wild rose crepe paper. The frame was of pink ribbon pasted on the glass the same as in passepartout. This picture, too, was for a boudoir.

Possibilities lie dormant even in all ordinary crepe paper napkin. A pansy one, for instance, with its floral sentiment, is beautiful for a photograph frame which is to be presented as a oval or square in the center, padding with cotton, scenting with sachet, and using a pasteboard backing.

Tapestry is a favorite material for mats since this new craze came in. Pictures framed in this manner, whether large or small, usually have gilt frames of either passepartout or moulding. Oval shapes are much favored. Remnants of tapestry which have been their best days, but which are valued because of their association, are kept intact in this manner, this serving a double purpose. Pink shades of tapestry with a gold thread and green shades with touches of brown, are both popular in this new role.

Some of the prettiest pictures seen recently were Holland scenes of the windmill type in Delft blue. They were mounted on mats of the same shade of blue book linen, and were framed in Delft blue passepartout.

Green, yellow, brown, black and gray book linen are also much liked for mats, and when framed in the same shade of passepartout are durable, inexpensive and effective.

Remnants of Dresden, pompadour or other figured silks are often brought into requisition for this purpose, and are dainty for mats. A picture recently shown was of a woman in colonial attire, powdered hair, black patches, voluminous skirts and all. The mat was of a pompadour silk with a dash of red in it, which gave a needed touch of color to the black and white picture.

OHIO LOCAL DEBT GROWING.

The local debt in Ohio is growing steadily and at a rapid rate. State Auditor Guilbert gave out Saturday the summary of the statistics of local debt as returned to him by law, and compared them with the same as they stood last year. His statement that every class of local debt except only that of the townships, has largely increased. The farmers, as managers of public finances, seem to be able to give to their city neighbors a lesson on how to live within one's income.

The aggregate of these local debts has ceased to be frightful simply because it has grown into figures that are too large to be readily comprehended.

The figure that represents this aggregate local debt is now $112,357,860, and the increase in the amount over that of 1903 is $5,989,725.

The following is Auditor Guilbert's table:

	1902.	1903.	Increase.
Debts of counties	$ 12,176,174	$ 12,772,679	$ 596,505
Debts of cities	76,673,120	80,966,925	4,293,805
Debts of villages	8,146,183	8,292,375	146,192
Debts of townships	1,084,144	958,684	*125,460
Debts of S. school district	8,283,516	9,367,217	1,083,701
Total local debt	$106,368,137	$112,357,860	$5,989,723

WEATHER.

Washington, Jan. 13.—For Ohio, fair in south, snow in central and north portions tonight, colder; Thursday, fair, except snow on northeast lake shore, colder fresh to brisk north winds.

The war situation is still diverse.

Hanna now has six years more in which to fight for the passage of the ship subsidy bill.

The inaugural parade in appearance seemed to breathe the same warlike spirit with which the president is reeking.

Ex-Governor Bushnell evidently had a premonition that death was not far distant from him when, last week, he gave a goodly portion of his estate to his children.

The re-election of Hanna to the senate today, had a little more of the air of honesty about than his election six years ago, and he may consider it a vindication, but there will always cling an aroma to his first landing that will smell bad.

ATCHISON GLOBE SIGHTS.

If the relatives and friends called in to advise when a man and wife quarrel, will at once get out and say nothing, peace is more apt to swoop down and remain.

Without saying a word, and often without knowing she is doing it, a woman begins after marriage to impress her husband with the superiority of her kin over his.

When a woman has a bank account of her own, her friends think she is wise, but if she lets her husband know it, they regard it as a case of wisdom weakened by love.

A man has the best of it in winter clothes, but a woman gets ahead of him in summer, when she appears in thin garments with holes embroidered in to let the air through.

A young man in town is considered such a catch that when he goes out calling, there are not enough pillow cushions in the house to group around him, and a call is made on the neighbors.

After a man has said in his winter's wood, and is informed by his wife about the middle of January, that it is all gone, he roars nearly as hard as he did two weeks before about Christmas bills.

We hope when we are in trouble that friends will not refuse to come to our assistance because we don't wear a button showing that we are an M. G. K., or can't give the grip indicating that we are a member in good standing of the Sons of M. K. L. of the World.

No matter what a man has to do; from writing a president's message to sewing on a button, he can do it best when alone. Men do not have to herd into clubs and other organizations in order to do things. One of these days, the women will refuse to fry an egg unless there is a quorum of the Egg Friers' club present, so that each member may fry an egg with her.

FINE LINENS
At the Great Bluem Removal Sale Tomorrow
Have Been Reduced so As to Make Them no Longer a Luxury But a Necessity.

The great removal sale at the G. E. Bluem store goes merrily on. Hundreds of people are saving hundreds of dollars on account of it and the Bluem store management is accomplishing the sole purpose it had in instituting such an enormous bargain sale, namely, clearing the store at almost any sacrifice in order to save the trouble of moving such an immense stock into new quarters and also to make it possible to fill the new store with all new, fresh merchandise.

The Bluem store has always had the reputation of being straightforward, the merchandise dependable and the prices always reasonable. For these three reasons, aside from the important fact that the stock is the largest in this vicinity, thereby giving better assortments, the more announcement of a "Bargain Sale" is sufficient to fill every aisle in the Bluem store with eager customers. The announcement made elsewhere in this issue of the Times-Democrat that there will be conducted, during the next week or two, a grand linen sale for the direct purpose of selling the present stock, even at a sacrifice, and starting the new store with a new stock, will be gladly greeted by the Lima people and hundreds of the out of town friends of the Bluem store, for the wise shopper knows what is meant by "Bluem's Linen Sale."

At times during the past week, the Bluem store has had crowds that even surpassed in magnitude, those during the busiest shopping seasons of the past year. It has given the management of the Bluem store great satisfaction to be shown so indisputably, how much confidence the good people of this vicinity place in an announcement the Bluem store may make.

Linen News.
Under any circumstances a linen sale at the G. E. Bluem store is most welcome news to the women of North-western Ohio, but the announcement of such a sale to begin tomorrow is of far more than ordinary interest to the discriminating wife or daughter, whose common sense ideas of buying lead her at once to the Bluem store where quality and reasonableness in price the year through gives that high class establishment a commanding position in the merchandise field of this portion of the state and where now the quality is still of the highest, yet prices have been reduced far lower than ever before.

Best of Bargains.
One of the most delightful departments throughout this great store in which to find remarkable bargains especially at this season of the year is on the third floor. Each of the very latest designs, each of the newest creations of the centers of fashion, are not only at your disposal, but each has been reduced one fourth, one third and some even one-half of the actual value.

Here are also found beautiful silk skirts, the most stunning effects ever shown in this city at prices low enough to be within the reach of all. Walking skirts hold an important place in this department, too, and the price reductions are proportionate. It may be said again that this is the grandest chance to buy merchandise of any sort, ever given you, and the Bluem store is ready to do its part to help you save money, if you are willing to buy fine seasonable goods now reduced to the very lowest notch. Remember, a word to the wise should be sufficient.

NEWS FROM THE RAILROADS.
C. G. Waldo, General Manager of the C. H. & D., was in Dayton today and placed several large orders with the Barney & Smith Car Manufacturing Co.
The order calls for several hand-some new observation sleeping and passenger cars, to be used largely in the traffic during the World's Fair. Mr. Waldo looks forward to a heavy run of traffic and views the business situation optimistically.
It is reported here on apparently reliable authority that the Pennsylvania line will double track its road between Dayton and Columbus in a short time. The money has already been assigned to the betterment fund and work will begin in the early spring.

Take Water at Delphos.
The Pennsylvania engines will now take on water for their boilers at Delphos instead of Lima, as heretofore. The company has been using water from the water works system at Lima but the supply of water is running short at Lima and it was necessary to get water here. A standpipe has been arranged for the engines to take on water, along the track between Jefferson and Clay streets. The engines began taking their water supply here this morning.—Delphos Herald.

Seventeen engineers and firemen will receive premiums of from ten cents to $5.00 for economy in burning coal for the month of October on the western division of the Pennsylvania.—P. Wayne Sentinel.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 13.—Evidence to be used against any persons held to the grand jury has been obtained at the Iroquois theatre by three detectives of the state's attorney office.

Eight doors and one exit of drapery were removed from the ruins and hauled to the criminal court building. Most of the doors bore evidence of having been locked. They are burned on but one side, and in a number of instances the doors were forced open and locks broken. The door where the bodies of so many dead were found, and the drapery that concealed an exit on the first floor, are among the pieces of evidence. Neither door nor the drapery was burned.

IN BED FOUR WEEKS WITH GRIP.

We have received the following letter from Mr. Roy Kemp, of Angola, Ind.: "I was in bed four weeks with la grippe and I tried many remedies and spent considerable for treatment with physicians, but I received no relief until I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. Two small bottles of this medicine cured me, and I now use it exclusively in my family." Polley's Honey and Tar has long been a household favorite for all throat and lung troubles. Refuse substitutes. For sale by H. F. Vorkamp, corner North and Main street.

None So Deaf.

Boy—Women are queer things.

Cox—That's so. There's our servant girl, for instance. Her hearing is very puzzling. She can hear the slightest word that is spoken by my wife or myself when we are alone, but her ears are impenetrable to the alarm clock, which sits on a chair within six inches of her head.—Boston Transcript.

Night Was Her Terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block, I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but when all other medicines failed, three $1.00 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds." It is absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00 Trial bottles free at H. F. Vorkamp, corner North and Main streets.

RHEUMATISM NOT A SKIN DISEASE.

It is natural to rub the spot that hurts, and when rheumatic pains are shooting through the joints and muscles and they are inflamed and sore, the sufferer is apt to turn to liniments and plasters for relief; and while such treatment may quiet the pain temporarily, no amount of rubbing or blistering can cure Rheumatism, because it is not a skin disease, but is in the blood and all through the system, and every time you are exposed to the same conditions that caused the first attack, you are going to have another, and Rheumatism will last just as long as the poison is in the blood, no matter what you apply externally. Too much acid in the blood is one cause of Rheumatism; stomach troubles, bad digestion, weak kidneys and torpid liver are other causes which bring on this painful disease, because the blood becomes tainted with the poisonous matter which these organs fail to carry out of the system. Certain secret diseases will produce Rheumatism, and of all forms this is the most stubborn and severe, for it seems to affect every bone and muscle in the body. The blood is the medium by which the poisons and acids are carried through the system, and it doesn't matter what kind of Rheumatism you have, it must be treated through the blood, or you can never get permanently rid of it. As a cure for rheumatic troubles S. S. S. has never been equalled. It doesn't inflame the stomach and ruin the digestion like Potash, Alkalies and other strong drugs, but tones up the general health, gently stimulates the sluggish organs, and at the same time antidotes and filters out of the blood all poisonous acids and effete matter of every kind; and when S. S. S. has restored the blood to its natural condition, the painful, feverish joints and the sore and tender muscles are immediately relieved.

Our special book on Rheumatism will be mailed free to those desiring it. Our physicians will cheerfully answer all letters asking for special information or advice, for which no charge is made.

UNABLE TO SLEEP AT NIGHT.
S. S. S. has never been equalled.

Some months ago I was feeling weak and run down and unable to get sleep at night. I felt extremely bad, and also had rheumatic pains in my joints and muscles. The medicine I used gave me only temporary relief at best, so I bought S. S. S. highly recommended for such troubles, I began its use, and after taking it for some time was well pleased with the results. It did away with the rheumatic pains, gave me refreshing sleep and built up my general system, giving me strength and energy. It is a good medicine, without a doubt, and I take pleasure in endorsing it.

Motherhood?

MOTHERHOOD is the reward nature bestows upon healthy womanhood. Women whose vitality has been sapped by disease cannot safely give birth to children. In pregnancy and in childbirth weakness of the mother is revealed in the pain and agony she suffers.

This great medicine drives out every vestige of inflammation and weakness, and gives tone and strength to the delicate organs which mature the child. The pains of pregnancy are banished by Wine of Cardui, and miscarriages, which blast so many unborn hopes, are prevented. Flooding, which so often occurs after childbirth, is corrected when Wine of Cardui is used during pregnancy.

Wine of Cardui babies are healthy babies, because, during the months of pregnancy, the mother is able to give them necessary vitality and strength.

With these facts presented to American women no expectant mother should be satisfied without the reinforcement that Wine of Cardui will give her. Every mother should be able to treat herself in her home with this valuable medicine.

Wine of Cardui can be secured from any druggist at $1.00 a bottle.

Polycarp, N. C., Jan. 11, 1903.

I am the mother of seven children and while in pregnancy with the first six suffered untold misery until they were born. One month before the seventh was born I began to take a bottle of Wine of Cardui, which gave me relief after taking three doses. I used the remainder of the bottle until the birth of the child, and was stouter in three days after the birth than I was in a month after the birth of either of the first six. I am 29 years old.

He Couldn't Forget.

"I'll never forget my 32nd birthday," said an old resident meditatively.

"Was it a joyful one?" asked the young man who was lounging about the club as if time hung heavy on his hands.

"Joyful," exclaimed the old resident. "That's no name for it at all. It was downright lively. I think my wife realized afterward that she rather overdid the matter."

"Tried to surprise you, did she?"

"She not only tried to, but she succeeded. You see, she always was an enthusiast in everything she undertook."

"Bankrupted you in getting you presents, I suppose," suggested the young man.

"Well, not exactly," returned the old resident reflectively. "but her presents came very near bankrupting me later. However, they are a good deal of comfort to me now, so that I can't say I regret it."

"Now," ejaculated the young man. "Do you mean to say that you still have them?"

"Certainly."

"And how long ago was this 32nd birthday?"

"Twenty years ago."

"Twenty years. Heavens! That's a long time to keep a birthday present."

"Two of them," corrected the old resident quietly.

"May I ask what they were?" inquired the young man after a pause.

"Certainly—twins, both girls," replied the old resident.

A Prisoner in Her Own Home.

Mrs. W. H. Lawha, of 1801 Agnes avenue, Kansas City, Mo., has for several years been troubled with severe hoarseness and at times a hard cough, which she says, "Would keep me in doors for days." I was prescribed by physicians with no noticeable results. A friend gave me part of a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with instructions to closely follow the direction and I wish to state that after the first day, I could notice a decided change for the better, and at this time after using it for two weeks have no hesitation in saying I realize that I am entirely cured. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.
